

Assignment #02

NAME: MARSOOD AHMED

ID: 38186

DEPT: BS(CS)

Sentence Structure:-

There are four types of sentences: Simple, Compound, ~~Simple~~ and Compound-~~simple~~. Each sentence is defined by the use of independent and dependent clauses, conjunctions and subordinators.

SENTENCE:-

A sentence is the largest grammatical unit. It usually consists of a subject, a verb and an object, a verb and or a complement.

KINDS OF SENTENCES:-

i) Declarative (statements):-

The structure of a statement is: subject + verb + other words.

- a) He plays football.
- b) They are learning grammar.

KINDS OF STATEMENTS:-

- i) Affirmative:-
- ii) Negative
- iii) Emphatic.

2) Interrogative (questions):-

A statement with an auxiliary verb is made interrogative by the inversion of the subject and verb.

Statements

- i) He is tall.
- ii) They are teachers.

Questions

- i) Is He tall?
- ii) Are they teachers.

3) Imperative Sentences:-

An imperative sentence express a command/order/request/advice/suggestion etc.

- i) Come 'on. (You come 'on)
- ii) Sit down. (You sit down)

4) Exclamatory Sentences:

An Exclamatory Sentence express a wide variety of emotions like surprise, delight, pain, anger, disgust etc.

i) What a place it is!

ii) How tall he is!.

THE END